

Hungarian Ceramic Fuse Processing Plant

Founded near the end of communist rule by nonconformist artists, it made artistic freedom and international projection its primary ideals. It aims at fostering creative, formal, aesthetic and ...

The bodies of fuses, sockets and caps, as well as other insulation segments are manufactured by quartz porcelain C111 in narrow dimensional deviations, allowing an automated assembly processes.

With a rich history dating back to the 19th century, the factory has become synonymous with the finest Hungarian ceramics. Over the years, it has produced a wide range of decorative and utilitarian ...

Ceramic components will be produced in the 6,000-square-metre hall of the company inter alia for medical implants and watches, and production is scheduled to start in the first quarter of 2022. In the ...

Zsolnay Factory was founded in 1853 by Miklós Zsolnay for his son Ignác, who launched the production of ceramic products using the assets purchased from a bankrupt plant in the nearby village of Lukafa ...

The factory's artisans developed specialized techniques for creating the distinctive red-white-green glazes that became characteristic of Hungarian ceramic arts.

Every member of the Zsolnay family has contributed in their own way to the establishment of a Hungarian national treasure. Today, we pay homage to the family and the artists that keep the ...

Industrial production has been continuous for almost 250 years in this tiny village in northern Hungary, hidden among the mountains. Read our history dating back to the past! We have been creating our ...

The hand-built, extraordinary ceramics of the joint brand established by Szaffi Asbóth and Flóra Bodnér fuse simple shapes with intricate designs and paintings.

As one of five largest producers of fuses in the world and co-creators of international standards ETI has many years' experience in technical ceramics for fuses and special equipment for large-series ...

Web: <https://busydoniemiecwaldii.pl>